NEGROES FIGHT

One Stabs and Slashes Another Severely.

Sylvester Hawthorne cut and severely injured Will Aiken on Tuesday afternoon, both colored.

The negroes became involved in a difficulty. The result of this fight was that Aiken was sent to the county hospital with several knife cuts and stabs in his body, and Hawthorne arrested and placed in the city jail.

Aiken is still in the hospital as a city prisoner. He is held on charges of fighting and disorderly conduct. Hawthorne is in the city jail being held on the same charges.

The wounded negro's condition was considered critical. He was much improved Wednesday night.

Less Meat If Back And Kidneys Hurt

Take a Glass of Salts to Flush Kidneys If Bladder Bothers You.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatism twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.

It's just fine. Don't stay stuffed up with a cold or nasty catarrh.

NUMBER OF THEORIES ARE ADVANCED BUT ALL WITHOUT SUPPORT

RECAPITULATION OF THE LOSSES

Revised Figures Show Gross Loss of Nearly $60,000—Insurance of $37,000

As yet the origin of Tuesday night's big fire has not been definitely determined, and it is probable that the question will never be actually settled. A number of theories of the origin of the conflagration have been advanced, but not enough evidence has been advanced to support any one of them.

In the excitement incident to the fire Tuesday night statements were made by insurance men and persons who were working in the Blue Ridge freight yards when the fire broke out the blaze apparently started when a spark from a Blue Ridge Railway locomotive fell among lumber in a warehouse of the T. K. Anderson plant. An employee of the railroad company stated that he saw the spark when it was no larger than a man's hat and that it was burning in Mr. Anderson's mill house. Mr. Anderson however, is of the opinion that the fire started between the mill house and the big lumber warehouse of Mr. J. E. Barton. While several persons saw the fire in its infancy, no one is able to state with any degree of authority just how the fire originated. From the fact that a locomotive was shifting in the vicinity of the warehouse a few minutes prior to the breaking out of the fire, it was generally supposed that a spark from the engine fell in the inflammable material. However, this is merely circumstantial evidence, and as there is considerable difference of opinion as to just where the fire started, there is every probability that the reports of how the fire originated are all wrong.

At any rate, the flames were first discovered by Conductor Marshall and Engineer Anderson of the Blue Ridge Railway shifting crew, who declare that the flames were confined to the mill house of Mr. T. K. Anderson. Engineer Anderson sounded the alarm on the locomotive whistle, while someone telephoned in a call to the fire department. Within a few minutes the full fire department was on the scene, and for several hours did heroic work.

It was extremely difficult Tuesday night to arrive at anything like an accurate statement of losses from the fire. Approximate figures are the best that could be done under the circumstances. Yesterday it was possible to arrive at a more nearly accurate statement of the losses, the insurance and the net losses, which figures out as follows:

J. E. Barton, gross loss, 12,500; insurance $400; net loss, $11,950.
T. K. Anderson, gross loss, $14,200; insurance, $5,000; net loss $9,300.
Blue Ridge Railway, gross loss, $3,300; insurance $3,000; net loss, $300.
P. & N. Railway, gross loss, $27,000; insurance $27,000; net loss, none.
G. E. Turner, gross loss, $1,000; insurance, $600; net loss, $400.
David Drennan, gross loss, $1,000; insurance $500; net loss $500.
Chero-Cola Company, gross loss, $350; net loss, none.
Anderson Phosphate & Oil Company, gross loss, $300; insurance $300; net loss, none.
Total, gross loss $59,500; insurance, $37,100; net loss, $22,450.

MOTORCYCLE CONTEST

Another Machine to Be Given Away.

The second motorcycle contest of the Liggett and Myers Tobacco Company is to be started in Anderson at an early date. This contest is to be conducted along the same lines as the recent one, but the machine will be given to some man within the city limits. The first contest was limited to mill employees, and Mr. J. A. Mullan, the Liggett and Myers man in this territory says that he does not wish to have the "town boys" think that his company is in any way partial, and he has asked that this second contest be put on in the city.

The machine will arrive in Anderson soon, and will be placed on exhibition at the Evans Pharmacy No. 3. This machine will be another Indian of the same style and model as the first machine given here.

Since Mr. Mullan came to Anderson he has secured several "features" for the town. First he started the mill motorcycle contest and then he secured a premium department. Now he is starting the second motorcycle contest.

Girl in Bridgeport's Strange Tragedy.

Miss Emily Wheeler.

Miss Emily Wheeler is the young woman of Bridgeport Conn., whose fiancé, Arthur H. Cowl, had her pull a ribbon attached to a revolver with which he killed himself. It has been reported that when she pulled the trigger the pistol did not shoot. The young man, who had her turn away from him again, must have pulled himself, it was said. The only explanation of the tragedy is that his bad health must have driven him in some for a moment. In fact, in a talk previous to the shooting he said to the girl that he was at times not himself.
